

I was just advised by Golden Eagles member Captain John Williams that the information posted in the Crew Room section of the September issue of the Golden Contrails magazine regarding his injured leg is incorrect. It is regretful that John`s email was hacked, but fortunate that he is not injured as reported.

John`s email message is posted below:

Dave:

I just received a call from Bob Stetser who apparently read in this issue that I had fallen and broken my right femur. That is not true. I have seemingly been hacked. Please let the other members know and tell them not to send any money to anyone. I think that that is where this is going. I received some calls about a month ago with the same content asking for donations to help with the medical bills, it is not true. Total scam. Call if you need to.

Thanks,

John Williams
