

Golden Contrails magazine: Let us hear from you

Hopefully, our members will continue to provide “personal” updates via the “Crew Room” section of our website, <https://www.thegoldeneagles.org/crew-room.html>, and via emails to the editor, at davebnewell@gmail.com, with more stories and reports of their activities so that their member friends will be able to see “what you have been up to”. Our magazine is first and foremost intended to be oriented toward our members and their activities, so it is important for us to receive content of a personal nature from our members for inclusion in our quarterly Golden Contrails magazine.

We sincerely request and invite input from you the member; so please don't be shy...please send us some of what you would like to share with your fellow members. Photos are welcome and encouraged. Of course the editors of the magazine must exercise a certain amount of “editorial license” to assure that any controversial or potentially inflammatory content is not included.

The next issue of the Golden Contrails will be published in early March, so there is still lots of time to submit a "Crew Room" report on our website or a personal story to the editor for inclusion in the magazine.

Let us know "What you have been up to". Inquiring minds want to know.... 🤔

Thanks for helping us make the Golden Contrails a "member oriented" magazine.
