

Hi guys,

Just a quick reminder that our quarterly luncheon is scheduled for April 17 at 1130 at the Pecan Street Brewery in Johnson City. As an additional reminder the official cutoff date for banquet reservations at our annual convention in Las Vegas is tomorrow, March 21, so if you have been thinking about attending but have not yet made your reservation, tomorrow is the day to get off the dime! Check the website under the convention heading for the details. It would be great to see a good number of your smiling faces in Vegas. If you can't make the convention, then try to make the luncheon and I will tell you all about the fun you missed. You still may be able to get the room discount at the Tropicana if you try.

I'm planning on having the staff at the Pecan St. Brewery set up our tables differently this time, in a modified circle or square shape so that we can all converse with each other more easily. The long table pretty well eliminates any conversation along the length of the table.

Hope to see you at the Brewery on the 17th. The food and service is always great and the company is, well, .....
